DRS. TUDOR AND FAIR UNITE THEM.

The House Prettily Decorated and the Ceremony Attended by Many of Their Friends—Several Other Weddings in Richmond Yesterday.

The residence, No. 1109 west Main street, of Mr. J. A. McGilvray, Clerk of the State Board of Education, was yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the scene of a pretty wedding, when his sister, Mrs. Salice McGilvray Stuart, was led to the altar by Mr. William Hammond Snook.

The parlor was exquisitely and tastefully decorated with palms, rare exotics, and lovely growing plants, and the ceremony was performed according to the ritual of the Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. Dr. W. V. Tudor, assisted by Rev. James Y. Fair, on an altar erected in the bay window, and profusely decorated with palms and ferns. Daylight had been excluded from the rooms, and green and white lamps, together with myriads of variegated fairy lamps, cast their effulgent glow over the scene.

ATTENDANTS AND CEREMONY.

Dr. David B. McCaw, Jr., acted in the capacity of best man, and the bride was attended by her lady of honor, in the person of Mrs. Clarence Taylor Brown, a niece of the bride.

The parlor was crowded with friends of the couple, when the bride, attired in a going-away gown of plum-colored boucle cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carrying a bouquet of bride's roses, entered, leaning on the arm of her brother, preceded by her lady of honor, wearing a handsome tailor-made suit of violet broadcloth, with black gloves and shoes, and carrying a silver waiter the ring and manual.

The groom, with his best man, had entered through another door, and met his bride at the altar. The ceremony was impressively performed, and while the words that made the twin one were being spoken "O Promise Me" was very sweetly rendered.

After the ceremony was concluded, and Mrs. Stuart had received the congratulations of their many friends, they repaired to the Bay-Line wharf, whence they embarked for an extensive southern tour.

Mr. Snook is one of Richmond's best known druggists, and is connected with the Jefferson Pharmacy in a managerial capacity. His bride, a most attractive lady, is the daughter of the late Rev. Dr. W. A. McGilvray, at one time pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents.

SOME OF THOSE PRESENT.

Among the invited guests were Captain and Mrs. W. J. Epps, Jr., and Mrs. James H. Cupers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nolting, Miss Elsie Nolting, J. Paul Nolting, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Thomas, Professor Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. P. Thomas, Miss Louise Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Norris, Miss Lucie Beach, Mrs. Beale, Mrs. E. K. Grady, Mrs. J. A. McGilvray, Miss H. McGilvray, Miss Nettie McGilvray, Mrs. T. T. Mayo, Mrs. J. Newton Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Conway Gordon, Mrs. Brown, and others.

MR. ENCHO AND MISS SPEAR.

Mr. Charles Encho and Miss Ida Spear were married at Fulton Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Harrison, officiated, and Professor Lawrence Cary played the wedding march. Mr. J. L. Schuch, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Ulrich Rogers, Lewis Seal, and Floyd Reams. The couple left at 3 o'clock on the steamer Virginia on a bridal tour. Miss Encho is a well-known young business woman of Fulton, and his bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Hannah Spear, of Fulton.

Grove-Kahl.

Mr. George H. Grove and Miss Susie Kahl were united in matrimony at P. M. yesterday, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. L. Kahl, 426 north Sixth street. Rev. Dr. James Y. Fair officiated. The bride was attired in a pretty gown of pearl gray with silk and chiffon trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The ushers were Mr. J. Conway, as best man, and Mr. J. Krouse. After receiving the congratulations and good wishes of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Grove left for an extended trip north. They went via the Bay-Line steamer Virginia, which, for time, had three bridal couples aboard at once.

Cone-Kass.

Mr. Joseph Cone and Miss Mollie Kass were married last evening by Rabbi E. N. Calish, in the parlors of his home, on Grace street. Owing to a recent affliction in the family, the wedding was made a very simple one, and only a few immediate relatives attended the ceremony.

The flowers were tastefully decorated in vases and palms, and pink shaded lamps lent the mellow glow to the scene. The bride was handsomely attired in a navy-blue cloth travelling-dress, with gloves and hat to match.

Mr. Cone is a very worthy young man, and is connected with the bakery of I. D. Briggs. His bride, quite an accomplished young lady, is the daughter of Mrs. Bertha Kass, of 28 east Clay street. The couple left via the 7:15 P. M. train for a northern tour.

Married on Chelsea Hill.

Mr. Benjamin R. Harton and Miss Florence Bass were united in sacred wedlock last evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride, on Chelsea Hill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Dill, in the presence of a number of friends of these popular young people. The marriage rites were simple, but none the less impressive, and the happy occasion was rounded with a delightful informal reception by Mr. and Mrs. Harton.

The bride has always been the pet of a large circle of friends, and Mr. Harton is a valued employee of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway shops.

THE MARRIAGE DID NOT OCCUR.

An advertisement inserted, but there had been no ceremony.

There appeared in last Sunday's Dispatch an advertisement announcing that Mr. W. Thornhill Snoddy and Miss Sarah Tapecott, both of Buckingham county, had been married at Ford's Hotel, in Richmond, on the 11th of January, by Rev. J. B. Jones. Since the publication, complaint has been made to the Dispatch by friends of the interested parties that the announcement was entirely erroneous, and that no such marriage had taken place. Investigation here shows that while the young lady was visiting friends in Richmond at that time, there was no marriage at Ford's Hotel, and no license was issued in this city to the persons named.

The Dispatch regrets that it should have been used as the medium for this announcement. It has always been very careful in requiring persons bringing in marriage notices to be identified by some responsible person who would vouch for the accuracy of the facts therein given, and this rule was not suspended in the present case. The advertisement, written by friends of the interested parties, was brought to the office by Mr. E. Snyder, of 1106 east Main street, who endorsed the copy and the reverse side. At the same time Mr. Snyder sent to the office a subscription for the Daily Dispatch to be sent for one year to Mr. W. Gayle, Dilworth Post-Office, Va. In the same letter with the marriage advertisement, which he was asked to have inserted.

MR. ROUNTREE MAY STAY IN.

He May Withdraw His Letter of Resignation—Mr. Ebel's Report.

The friends of Mr. Henry W. Rountree, the member of the Common Council from Clay Ward, who tendered his resignation as a member of that body several days ago, after a stormy interview with Mayor Richard M. Taylor, are gratified that he has determined to take under consideration their appeal that he should withdraw his letter. It is thought now that Mr. Rountree will remain in the Council until the question of retraction and reform has been disposed of.

Mr. Ebel, of the sub-committee, who, with Mr. Rountree, called upon the Mayor to ascertain the name of the member of the Committee on Retrenchment who had approached his Honor with reference to the approval of what transpired in the Mayor's office on the morning of the conference. Mr. Ebel declared that he would neither offer any recommendation nor give any opinion, as it was not within his province to do either.

INVITATIONS TO THE BALL.

Handsome Works of Art—The Tickets Placed on Sale.

The invitations to the mistletoe ball have just been issued, and are remarkably artistic in design. At the top of the card is depicted a bunch of mistletoe, entwined with a hand, bearing the name of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and this, with all the lettering, is done in green and white. Mr. Hoeh is to be congratulated upon this beautiful work of art. The tickets for the ball will be on sale Thursday, the 29th, and may be procured from the lady's of the association, at the Jefferson Hotel, and at George M. West's, No. 90 east Main street. The limited space at the Masonic Temple necessarily limits the number of tickets, and it is to be regretted that this number is small, in comparison with that of all previous entertainments of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities.

Mr. W. H. Grant is chairman of the Supper Committee, and will be assisted by the following gentlemen: Messrs. A. Davidson, C. A. Walker, Dudley McDonald, William R. Massie, H. E. Baskerville, W. G. Ferguson, Saunders Hobson, and Archer Anderson, Jr.

A number of details were arranged for the annual Memorial-Day celebration, and arrangements were perfected for an entertainment to be given in a short while, which promises to be as interesting as unique.
